Chief Fulton Battise of the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation near Livingston in East Texas will be an honored guest at the third annual Museum Day on May 6. Chief Battise was born on the Reservation and has spent his life there. He was elected Second Chief (Mikko Atokla) of the Tribes in 1936 and was made Principal Chief in 1970. Chief Battise has informed Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Sauer (she is secretary of the Museum) that he and his wife Eva will be in Hondo on May 6 especially for Museum Day.

CONTRARY

... to the beliefs of some people in town, I am not a charter member of the Citizens for Better Government. I am not even a member.

The factor generating this belief, I suppose, is that I print stories and pictures concerning the organization. So I suppose those who believe this will have to continue believing, for I will continue printing stories from that organization and any other organization so long as they provide stories worthy of printing.

This does not mean that I condone everything the CBG or its members do. I don't have to agree with them, or believe the same as they do to cover their activities. There are a lot of things going on in Hondo that I don't particularly approve of, but I still print stories and pictures of people connected with them.

I try my level best to make the Anvil Herald an "open press". A press in which people can voice their opinions, or report their activities.

When I feel any organization, the CBG included, is trying to "pump the public" full of some damaging philosophy then I will put on the brakes. To suppress a story because I do not like it, or because it disagrees with my philosophy would be journalistic tyranny.

ON THE OTHER HAND

... I've heard rumors that some members (and I said some) of CBG have said they can get anything they want printed in the paper. To them (if such a rumor should be true) I have only one thing to say: "Don't bet your stake on it."

I feel that the Citizens for Better Government can be a worthwhile effort for the Mexican-American citizens of our city--and thus benefit the entire city.

That is, it can be as long as it is used for educating, informing and assisting people with their problems. It can be beneficial to inform people of their rights as long as it informs them of the responsibilities that go with these rights.

We all need to know what we can do, what we cannot do, what people can do to us, for us or against us. But we also need to know what we can do for our city, country, state and nation through being a responsible citizen. These needs have no ethnic barrier. They hit all of us right between the eyes.

But any organization loses its value to a

Easter weekend election

Absentee voting grabs spotlight

The filing is over, the candidates have announced, the races are drawn, the talking has begun and now it's all over but the voting to determine who will be elected to the City Council and the School Board.

Both elections will be held on Saturday, April 1 this year and this fact, in itself, poses a problem which slams the spotlight on absentee voting. That will be the Easter weekend and many persons probably will be leaving town to visit relatives or just travel. Therefore, if they plan to vote in either election, it will have to be an absentee vote.

Absentee voting in both elections begins 20 days prior to the election and ends the fourth day to the election.

This means absentee voting begins on March 13, which is Monday, and ends on March 28. That is the last day voting in person can be done. It is also the last day that applications for absentee voting can be received in the mail. All mail absentee votes must be in the proper election balloting spot no later than the day of the election.

Plans progress told

Texas Industry Week plans are coming along in fine shape, with exhibit building located, industries being notified, school assemblies planned and the essay contest under way.

Kenneth Flory and Bud Woolls have been appointed chairmen to obtain speakers for the high school and junior high school assemblies.

Harry Filleman is in charge of contacting all local industries seeking displays at the week-long event. Exhibits will be displayed in the new building next to the Bluebonnet Cleaners on 17th Street across from the Post Office.

Displays will be put in the building on Monday, April 3, and will remain through Saturday. Tentative plans call for the building to be open until 9 p.m. on Thursday night of that week.

"We feel plans for this important week are coming along nicely," said Chairman Burnis Lawrence. "It will give the Chamber of Commerce an opportunity to pay tribute to the industries that provide our economy and give the people of Hondo an opportunity to meet some of them."

Broom corn first made by Koch

George Koch of Hondo might have established another "first" with his broom corn planting this year, according to the Broom Corn News.

The News said that Koch planted the first broom corn in the United States in 1972 when he started planting on February 22.

The Hondo broom corn grower said that this is his usual planting time since he does it on George Washington's birthday. He says he planted 75 acres.

The News story continues:

"Koch said the weather has been warm (up into the 80's) during the day for about two weeks now and the ground temperature has climbed enough to start planting. He said the weather has been ideal and moisture conditions are excellent for this time of year.

"It is just a little dry on top but we have excellent subsoil moisture. We are in real good shape to plant as far as natural conditions are concerned," Koch said. He noted that trees are starting to blossom out in his area. It sounds like spring has come to South Texas.

May Increase Plant
"Koch said he expects to see quite a bit more broom corn planted in South Texas this year. He said he plans to plant about the same, 400 acres, as he did last year but others in the area are talking about planting more broom corn. "I believe we can reasonably expect to see 25% more broom corn planted this year around Hondo and Yancey," he said.

"He said the primary reason for his optimism about the increased plant is the fact that most of the small grain crops in the area were killed by cold weather during the winter. The wheat, oats, barley, etc. were hit right after the first of the year with a killing freeze.

"Koch said it was highly unusual that all the small grain crops would be killed but it happened this year. "The plants seemed to be so full of water that when the freeze hit they just burst open and were killed immediately," he said. He said many of the farmers were grazing cattle on the small grain fields in hopes of preventing damage from cold weather but it didn't work this year."

Bud Gwartney

Gwartney runs for Council

R. D. Gwartney authorized the Anvil Herald to make this announcement:

"I make no campaign promises other than to serve all the people of Hondo equally and diligently, in the interest of good City government.

"I have made my home in Hondo for the past three years. Prior to moving to Hondo, I was employed by the City of Austin in the Electrical Distribution Department for seven years. During this time, I gained considerable knowledge of the functions of municipal government.

"I am now employed by Medina Electric Cooperative, Inc., as Engineering Superintendent.

"I am a certified Engineering Technician, a member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers, Southwest Power Technical Group, and American Society of Certified Engineering Technicians.

"My wife, Nelda, is a teacher in the Hondo High School and we have two children, Bradley 6, and Kristy 4."

"I earnestly solicit your vote and your support in the City Council Election April 1, 1972."

WEARING DESERVED SMILES

Jerry Houser

Houser seeking office

In announcing his candidacy for State Representative, 45th District, on the Republican ticket, Jerry Houser authorized the Anvil Herald to release the following:

Jerry R. Houser, candidate for the office of State Representative, District 45, was born in Big Spring, Texas in 1931.

Upon graduation from Texas A&M in 1952, he entered the U.S. Pilot Training Program and subsequently the Fighter Weapons Program. He served for 18 months in the Far East.

Upon Houser's honorable discharge from the Air Force, he was active in real estate brokerage and investment field. Houser completed his advanced education at St. Mary's Law School and is a practicing attorney with offices in Boerne and San Antonio.

Mighty Owl Band takes Clean Sweep

Hondo's mighty Owl marching band went to Brady and the Heart of Texas Band Festival Saturday and came home with a "clean sweep" on first place awards.

The band, under the direction of Billy Harrell, received two first place awards and was named the top parade band. This feat was accomplished over 20 bands from throughout the state, including 3-A bands like Uvalde.

In addition to being named the Outstanding Band in the Street Parade, the Owl Band was also named Outstanding Class AA Band in both Concert and Sight-Reading at the 24th annual event.

Judges for the festival included: Doug Wiehe of Southwest Texas University; Greg Berry of Howard Payne College; Lee Boyd Montgomery of Austin; and Doug Fry of Abilene.

Director Harrell, well pleased with the performance of his bandsters, said the band is now busy preparing for the U. I. L. Concert and Sight-Reading Contests to be held in Fredericksburg on March 17-18.

"The band," he said, "will be eligible to compete for the Sweepstakes Award as it received a first division rating in marching last fall, and a first division in both concert and sight-reading would qualify the band for this award."

Committee will seek housing

Two different types of housing projects will probably be Hondo's recommendation to the AACOG committee on March 21 when the Hondo committee reports back on its decisions made Thursday night, March 2.

Low rent housing units, for both elderly and other persons, and some type of rehabilitation project seemed to be the most needed here, according to the committee.

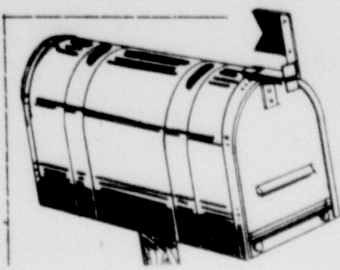

Committee members heard Mary Lou Hill of AACOG and an architect go through the various programs. The architect also explained the duties and obligations of a Housing Authority which would have to administer a low rent housing project.

Mayor George Brucks has indicated that he will ask the City Council to appoint a Housing Authority when it holds its regular meeting Tuesday, March 14.

A long way up

The top of the Hondo water tower would be a long way up for a young buck, but for 70-year-old J. G. Saenz of San Antonio it's nothing! Saenz worked on top of the tower this week installing a probe system and climbed it several times. He does that kind of work all time from Del Rio to Austin, ably helped by Juan Aguilera of San Antonio. (Photo by Tony Mendoza)

Letters from the mailbox

Dear Mr. Lawrence:

Just a note of thanks for running my Bob Breiten story two weeks ago. I'm sure that Bob and his family join me in these sentiments. The pictures and captions were done in the best of taste, and for this also, thank you.

Knowing of your tight schedule in putting out two weeklies and associated tasks, I shall await to hear from you at your convenience regarding my inquiries on Feb. 12. The Breiten story is now edited to 1500 words, and is ready for submission elsewhere when complete with pictures.

Once again, my sincere thanks for past favors and those anticipated.

Sincerely,
Nick H. Fohn

Visit your child's school

The Texas Public School system, established 118 years ago, has been rich training ground for the youth which has helped them to make significant contributions in the fields of government, art, science and technology.

This week has been proclaimed as Texas Annual Public Schools Week, and it gives all of us cause to examine this Texas tradition. In recent years, there has been a schoolhouse revolution as Texas educators have experimented with flexible new methods and educational techniques and some have been most successful. This week gives you the opportunity of seeing some of the latest developments in the science of teaching.

This is a year of critical issues and crucial decisions in education. It is important that we as parents and voting citizens, acquire an understanding of what the schools are trying to achieve and the methods used pursuant to this goal. It is no longer enough for Johnny to learn to read—he must learn how to apply his rational powers to new kinds of situations. In short, the parent, the school, the child form an important education triangle based on mutual understanding.

We can fulfill our obligation in this educational triangle by being an active participant in Texas Annual Public Schools Week, March 6th through March 10th, 1972. Visit your child's school. It will be a rewarding experience.

Advertising is vanguard of modern consumer

One of the most important effects of advertising is its influence on the quality of goods and services. Good advertising has been the vanguard of the modern consumer movement.

The relationship of high quality to advertising can be observed in both manufacturing and retailing. The public, with good reason, bases its judgment of a product or a company on advertising.

We correctly assume that the company which advertises consistently is a stable company. The amount and quality of the advertising indicate that a company is in a position to back up its offers.

Advertising also shows the consumer that a firm has confidence in itself and the product it sells. The absence of advertising indicates a lack of confidence and stability.

In recent years the American consumer has become increasingly aware that quality is more important than price—that low cost goods may not be cheap. Without this influence of advertising, it often would be impossible for the consumer to obtain assurance of quality.

Low price would become the primary basis for buying, if it were not possible for retailers and producers to build and maintain public confidence. Inferior goods crowd quality products from the market when price alone governs buying.

But advertising which builds brand names and maintains the prestige of retail firms give the consumer assurance that a slightly higher price may be the sign of a real bargain.

SCS news

"Knowing what kind of soil with which we have to work is of first importance to all manner of urban and rural planning," stated Glenn Dittmar, soil scientist for the Soil Conservation Service in Hondo.

"In addition to farmers—for whose guidance soil surveys originally were developed—town officials, planners, homeowners and hosts of others find that they too can benefit from the use of modern soil surveys," Dittmar added. "The shallowness to bedrock or a high watertable is equally as important in selecting a building site as it is in determining the kind of crops, grass, or trees to grow. In urban-area use, for example, the surveys disclose soils that are slowly permeable to water or those that are subject to overflow and have severe limitations for use as homesites as well as for growing many kinds of plants."

In Medina County, the field work has been completed on all 868,480 acres in the county. The preliminary soil report has been prepared and copies sent to Austin, Temple and Fort Worth for analysis and evaluation. Final evaluation will take place in Hondo next month. Once the evaluation is completed and final recommendations are made, work will begin on the manuscript for the published report. The manuscript will be completed by the end of this year and will be sent to the printers for editing and publication. Published copies of the Medina County Soil Survey will be made available to all land owners and land users once they have been received by the local Soil Conservation Service office.

The modern soil survey has information about the kinds of soil that occurs in the area, with descriptions of their structure, texture, and other physical characteristics. This information can give estimates of porosity and percolation rates, natural soil drainage, ponding, flooding, runoff, depth to bedrock and seasonal high water tables, bearing strength, shrink or swell potential, and frost action. These characteristics are then translated into limitation ratings for various land uses, such as residential, industrial, commercial, school sites, and developed and undeveloped recreational areas.

In making the maps, the soil scientist walks over the land, studying the soils, vegetation, and other features of the landscape. He identifies the different soils by digging numerous holes and examining the different layers of soil. Using his knowledge about soils and their behavior, he classifies the different kinds of soils and records their boundaries on an aerial photograph. A separate symbol is used to identify each different kind of soil.

By recording the behavior of the different kinds of soil, we can assemble useful data about each of the soils that is named and classified.

A detailed soil map can serve the user as a blueprint of the land. It will help him in making wise choices among alternative uses, and assist him in resisting pressures from those who have short-term objectives or are poorly informed. The soil map can be interpreted to show those areas that are good sites for roads, private dwellings, schools, septic tank filter fields, commercial areas, parks and other urban facilities. However, the soils that have severe limitations for homes, schools, or other buildings may be well suited as sites for parks, golf courses, wildlife sanctuaries, plant nurseries, or agricultural crops. This is orderly planning: using, rather than abusing, natural resources.

The cost of soil surveys for orderly planning is only a fraction of that of failure.

SOIL FACTS ARE A SOURCE OF HELP WE CAN NOT AFFORD TO IGNORE.

city and its residents if it begins to expound a philosophy damaging to the city as a whole. Working for changes that will benefit any or all of our citizens is fine; but working for a "power take over" would be the worst thing that could happen to Hondo. And that I am against, be it CBG, John Birch, LaRaza, or any other organization.

UNCLE SAM

. . . allowed me to take a pleasant trip this past weekend. Long, but pleasant. With crews of the 433rd Tactical Airlift Wing at Kelly, I boarded a C-130B Friday afternoon and flew to Charleston, South Carolina, and from there to the Panama Canal Zone on Saturday and back home on Sunday. A round trip totaling almost 5,000 miles, with most of it being over water.

The trip proved uneventful until we started back. Then about two hours out from Panama one of the planes had to shut down one engine. And this started a chain reaction that proved very informative as well as comforting.

To hear over the airways the many calm voices going about explaining the situation, determining the support needed and scrambling the Air Sea Rescue plane to escort our ship to land made me kinda proud I was part of an outfit like this.

The ship, of course, had four engines and as long as the other three kept turning there was nothing to worry about. But to be prepared just in case is their motto--and I can guarantee you when you're sitting over that water several hundred miles from land, you want to know somebody (other than you there) is lending a helping hand.

Everything came out just fine--except I did not get to see any of Panama. So maybe there will be another trip and I can satisfy my daughter Terri and "get some water from the ditch" for her science class.

SSGT JOHN FISCHER

. . . Monday wound up his last official act as recruiting representative for the U. S. Army in Medina County. He presented the Anvil Herald a certificate for "helping out with the recruiting program."

SSgt Fischer's leaving really is a sad state of affairs. He has worked harder for the Army in Medina County than the last five or six recruiters combined. He mingled with the people. He met with groups to see what he could do to help with their programs and projects. He wanted to help Museum Celebration Day.

In other words, I feel SSgt John Fischer did a bang-up job of representing the Army in Medina County.

And I think it somewhat lousy that he was transferred because he "didn't make his quota."

Come back to see us, John.

. . . Jack Gruber shaved off his mustache. It seems the bother acted like a magnet pulling that razor. But, Jack made it longer this year than he did last year. Who knows? Maybe he'll make it all the way next year.

We need names of others who are making this effort to publicize Museum Day.

Sally Brucks and Sis McDade tell me they are going pig buying this weekend. Then come next week we'll plan some hoop-la to spotlight the "pig-fattening". So when Museum Day rolls around we'll have four more "fat hogs" to auction off in the Purple Petticoat Saloon to be run again by the D'Hanis Lions Club.

Monday night much discussion will be going on at the Museum Board meeting concerning Museum Day May 6. We already have several clubs lined up to repeat their booth performances of last year. And by Monday we should have plenty more on the promised line.

That's all she wrote

by Edna McDade

This might qualify for Believe it or Not: MAURICE FOHN, who lives six miles north of Hondo on Hwy 689 and GENE SAATHOFF, who lives about 17 miles out in the same direction, have been friends since their early years.

Incredible as it sounds, they had not seen one another for a long, long time—about 15 years, they said, when they met last week in the Super-Sav Grocery. It will take a lot of reminiscing to make up for lost time!

BARBARA (Mrs. Jack) LANDRUM of San Antonio is the daughter of Hondo's HILMER and MARGARET HAEGELIN.

Not only that but she is one of the seven women members of the SA Chapter Texas Society of Public Accountants; a member of the American Institute of CPAs; chairman of the Committee of Relations with Educational Institutions; and is even prettier than her picture which I saw recently in the Texas Society's current directory.

Her "credentials" didn't include what she does in her spare time but it probably has something to do with the exact sciences.

KAY (Mrs. J. Melvin) FINGER told me that the Medina County FINGERS are looking forward to this year's annual family reunion with special anticipation.

Among the guests will be EDWARD and JOHANNA FINGER who are coming next month from Germany on their first visit to America and a first meeting with their American cousins.

It was the late BERNARD ZINSMEYER who found them and helped with the plans for their forthcoming visit. JOSIE (Mrs. Amos) FINGER of D'HANIS has promised to tell all about it for the enjoyment of Anvil Herald readers who will share the family's happiness.

Hard at the job of tidying up displays and fixtures at the HEB Grocery last week were JAMES WIEMERS and RICHARD TORRES.

What caught my attention was when one of the young men threatened to clean up on the other one with whatever miracle cleaner-up-er they were using. "This stuff," said one, "could plum eradicate you!"

Whatever it was, it was making things shine and they were both adding the necessary elbow grease to make it work.

"UNCLE" RAY JENNINGS still has a supply of theater seats available at real bargain prices. I have two of them in my study and they are so handy that I made room for them where almost no room existed.

They'd be fine for playrooms, family T-Viewing (on nights when there are no local movies). Too bad they are not constructed for outdoor use but they would need protection from the rain—when and if it rains. Ray can tell you more about them if you are interested.

Item of interest: Not long ago, YANCEY RUSSELL had a story in the SA Express about the John Redus Ranch in Medina County. Recently I met the original owner's grandson, O. M. REDUS who is enjoying retirement, with his wife, in their new home on 27th Street South.

I had a pleasant visit with them and we found ourselves almost kindred spirits on several mutual interests. Mrs. R is a woman of many skills and talents. She is an accountant and a gifted artist who can produce a picture at the drop of a paint brush.

It was she who told me that our now world-famous Hondo highway sign had found its way into mention in the February issue of CORONET magazine.

It is good to have the Reduses "back home" for O. M. says that's exactly how he feels about Medina County.

Mrs. HELEN (Edwin) BENDELE has a 53-year old Japonica shrub in her front yard on 25th Street. It is exactly 33-years younger than she is. I met her for the first time when I stopped to admire the flowers and I learned that she is the mother of W. H. (Cotton) BENDELE and the late HARRY FREEMAN.

Mrs. Bendele was "minding" a 5-year old sheep which had belonged to her grandson, MIKE FREEMAN, who is now on military duty in Germany. "I'm just still being a devoted grandmother," said Mrs. B., "and this was Mike's prize sheep in his FFA days."

Somewhere I read that, one thing to be glad about when you have a sore throat is that you are not a giraffe!

Group elects of ficers

The Country Squares have a new group of officers leading their movements this year since they elected officers at their last meeting. The new swinging leaders are left to right: Olen and Fay Dell Wiemers, secretary; Elgin and Velma Wiemers, reporter; Dan and Evelyn Herrman, president; Chuck and Nita Hackebell, vice-president; L. J. and Frances Leinweber, treasurer. The Country Squares plan an anniversary dance at 8 p.m. March 18 in Hondo, with Len Bachman doing the calling. Refreshments will be served.

Student teachers complete term

Miss Valerie Schott and Miss Julia Ann Bretzke, home economics seniors, from Southwest Texas State University, are completing a nine-week term of student teaching in the Home Economics Department of the Hondo High School this week.

Miss Schott is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Schott of Devine. Miss Bretzke's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clinton W. Bretzke of LaPryor.

The student teachers have observed, taught classes, made field trips, attended FHA and Young Homemaker meetings, kept study halls and made home visits.

Mrs. Mabel Jones and Mrs. Dora Mae Fasler, local homemaking teachers, have served as their cooperating teachers. Miss Anne McCann, Southwest Texas State University, has been their supervisor.

Oefinger speaks to 4-H Club

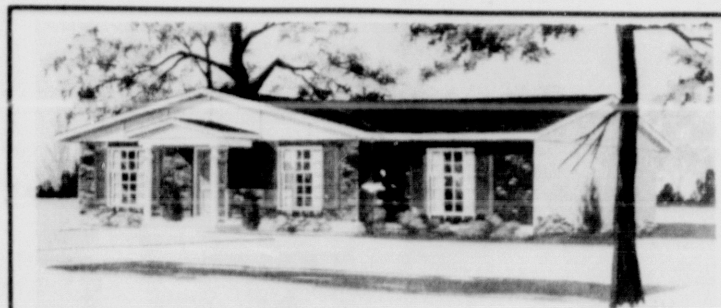

The South Hondo Unit I met March 6 at the Methodist Educational Building. Mariette Aelvoet presided at the meeting. Others taking part in opening ceremonies were Joy Heiligman, Brian Bader and Vicke Gilliam.

The program was presented by Larry Oefinger, who spoke on electricity. Jeanette Aelvoet reported on the District Food Show Jo Ann Coffey gave a report on treasury. Balance on hand is $39.18.

The club was reminded of the County Round-up for demonstrations, which will be April 13 at the Hondo High School. Larry Bohmfalk had recreation. The Gilliam family provided refreshments. Next meeting will be April 13 under leadership of Tim Gilliam and Alice Geuea.

North Country to thrill all youngsters at Raye Friday

NORTH COUNTRY, is an outdoor, color, action-adventure motion picture about the exploits of modern-day Alaskan trapper, Jeff Graham.

This exciting film, shot entirely on location, follows woodsman Graham through one year of his life as he camps in the frozen wilds of the far north country trapping beaver, fox, and muskrat. In this true-to-life feature, Graham pans gold and serves as a backcountry guide over some of Alaska's roughest terrain to earn just enough to pay for what little he needs from civilization. Otherwise, he lives off the land, hunting only out of necessity.

None of the characters in NORTH COUNTRY are actors. These are all real Alaskans portraying their real lives.

Ron Hayes filmed, directed, and appears in NORTH COUNTRY. He has masterfully captured on film this land's magnificent scenery, rare wildlife, and unique people.

NORTH COUNTRY, G-rated, is a Rainbow Adventure film, released by American National Enterprises, the company that brought you COUGAR COUNTRY. This is the unique motion picture firm dedicated to presenting only all-family entertainment to the public.

The Varsity pounded out 13 hits and got four-hit pitching from James Prescott and Steve Overman in posting their first win of the season.

Prescott was the winning pitcher, while both Eric Grant and Johnny Abrego each hit safely three times for the Owls. Chuck Burrow was the losing pitcher.

Line score: Hondo--13-13-0; D'Hanis--1-4-10, WP--Prescott; LP--Burrow. UVALDE NEXT

The Varsity will travel to Uvalde on Friday to meet Uvalde.

Wins first trophies

Clark Kuempel of Hondo holds two second place trophies he won Sunday at the Texas Travelers Motorcycle Track. He entered two events and came in second in both, not a bad feat considering the fact he had never raced before Sunday. Kuempel won against seven in the quarter mile and against nine in the half mile event. Riding a BSA 441, Kuempel says he fell three times in practice on the dirt surfaced track and finished the last race with only fourth gear left in the transmission.
